3. Read. Ask and answer the questions.

Wednesday, 10th June

When I grow up, I want to be like Ivan Star. Ivan is an astronaut. He has travelled into space three times. He has been to the moon once, but he has never been to another planet.

My brother likes Ivan Star, too, and we have been to the Space Centre to meet him twice. I met him for the first time when I was six, and then again when I was eight. My brother has met him three times.

The first time I met Ivan, he gave me a photo of himself in a space rocket. My brother was unhappy that day. Perhaps he was unhappy because he didn't get a photo from Ivan Star.

Once, Ivan visited my town. He came to the university to talk to thousands of people. He told them about the stars and the planets in space. I was on holiday when he came, so I couldn't see him. That made me very unhappy!

I think Ivan Star is the best astronaut in the world. He is very brave and clever. I want to be like him. One day in the future, I, too, might travel to another planet.

Dear Mr Star,

I think you are great. I have met you twice, and I have been to the Space Centre, too. But lots of my friends and teachers haven't met you.

Please can you come to our school? We would love to hear you talk about space. I want to be an astronaut when I am older.

Yours sincerely,
Sam

Dear Sam,

Thank you for the letter that you sent me on 5th June. I think it is great that you want to be an astronaut.

I would like to come and visit you and your friends at your school. I can come on 9th September. I have written to your headteacher, Mr Payton, about it.

Have you bought my new book yet? It's called Star in Space. Would you like me to send it to you?

Best wishes,
Ivan Star

STAR VISITS SCHOOL IN OUR TOWN!

Ivan Star, the famous astronaut, (1) visited Green Street School yesterday. He gave a talk about space travel.

Mr Star has been to our town before. He gave a talk at the university two years ago.

Sam, a pupil at the school, wrote to ask Mr Star to visit. Sam has already (2) _____ Mr Star twice at the Space Centre. He says that Mr Star is the best astronaut in the world.

At the school, Mr Star talked about his three journeys into space. After that, pupils asked him questions. Sam asked Mr Star, 'Which is the best space rocket you have ever (3) _____ in?'

Mr Star answered, 'The best rocket I have travelled in is Journey 5.'

Sam then asked him, 'What's the best thing you've ever (4) _____ in space?'

Mr Star said, 'I enjoyed seeing our planet from space.'

When he left, he told the headteacher, Mr Payton, 'This is the best school I have ever (5) _____. I'm sure Sam is going to be a great astronaut one day. And the other children at your school are very clever, too.'

Mr Payton thanked Mr Star, saying, 'That was the best talk I've ever (6) _____.'

8. Read again. Who said these things? Write Sam, Mr Payton or Ivan Star.

1. 'This is the best school I have ever visited.' Ivan Star
2. 'The Journey 5 space rocket is the best rocket I've ever flown in.' _____
3. 'What's the best thing you've ever seen in space?' _____
4. 'That was the best talk I've ever heard.' _____
5. 'Our planet is the best thing I've ever seen in space.' _____

9. These are some of the questions the pupils asked Ivan Star. Read and match the questions to the answers.

|---|---|
| 'What's the best food you've ever eaten on a space rocket?' | 'Steve Shooter. I like watching him play on TV.' |
| 'What's the best film you've ever watched?' | 'Space Race. It was exciting and I loved the drawings.' |
| 'Who's the best person you've ever worked with?' | 'William Moonwalker. He's a very good astronaut – and he's funny, too.' |
| 'What's the best space journey you've ever been on?' | '40 Days in Space. I saw it twice at the cinema!' |
| 'Who's the best footballer you've ever seen?' | 'Chicken and rice. We can take our favourite food when we go on a space journey.' |
| 'What's the best comic you've ever read?' | 'The time I travelled to the moon. That was the best.' |

1. Look at the photo. What can you see?

2. Read and tick (✓) or cross (X).

7.8 Hello! I am Catalina. I live on a farm in Vicuña, Chile and I really enjoy watching the night sky.

It is often difficult to see the stars in a city because there is too much man-made light at night from buildings, street lights and cars. Also, the air in cities is sometimes dirty. But in Vicuña, we don't have a lot of man-made light at night, and the air is very clean. The sky looks very dark at night here, and it is easy to see the moon and the stars. That's why there are three big observatories here. Scientists from different countries come to Vicuña to use the observatories to study the sky. They try to find new stars and planets that no one has seen before.

1. There is a lot of light from buildings and cars in most cities at night. ☑
2. The air in Vicuña is very clean. ☐
3. It is not easy to see the stars in the sky where Catalina lives. ☐
4. Vicuña has three big observatories. ☐
5. Only scientists from Chile use the observatories in Vicuña to find new planets and stars. ☐

3. Read and answer the questions.

2.9 You don't have to be a scientist to study the stars. Lots of people use computers and telescopes to study them at home. Children can study them, too!

A Canadian girl, Kathryn Gray, found a supernova in 2011 when she was only 10 years old! Supernovas are old, bright stars that are very far away. Kathryn looked very carefully at the sky and at photos of the sky on her computer, and found a supernova in the photos. I think that's wonderful. I also want to find a supernova. And when I grow up, I want to work in one of the observatories in Vicuña.

1. What two things do people often use to study stars at home?
2. Which country is Kathryn Gray from, and how old was she when she found a supernova?
3. What is a supernova?
4. Where does Catalina want to work when she grows up?

4. Talk to a friend. Then tell the class.

1. Can you see a lot of stars at night where you live?
2. Would you like to live somewhere far away from other houses? Why?
3. Do you think studying the stars is an interesting job or hobby? Why?

This story is from Treasure Island, a book by Robert Louis Stevenson. Stevenson was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1850. After he left university, he travelled to many places and lived in different countries around the world.

Treasure Island is Stevenson's most famous book. He wrote it in 1881. It is about Jim Hawkins, a young boy who finds a treasure map, and sails on a ship to look for the treasure. Jim does not know there are pirates on the ship.

1. What book is the story from?
2. Who wrote it?
3. Where was the writer born?
4. When did the writer write it?
5. Who is Jim Hawkins?

8. Read the texts on pages 74 and 75. Number the story in the correct order.

a

In the mornings, the captain went for walks. He climbed the hills above the hotel, and looked down through the trees over the cold, grey sea. When he came back to the hotel, he always asked me, 'Has anyone come to ask about me today?' or, 'Have you seen a sailor with one leg?' In the evenings, he sat alone by the fire until ten o'clock or he stayed in his room. ☐

b

On a cold morning in January, a small, thin man with a white face came into our hotel and sat down. 'Come here,' he said to me, 'What's the best way to find my friend Bill?'

'Who is Bill?' I asked.

'Bill is a sea captain,' he said. 'Is my friend Bill here in this house? I ask again. What is the best way to find him?'

Then the door opened. It was the captain, back from his walk. ☐

c

The captain gave us some money and took a room with us for three months. He did not speak a lot, and sometimes he didn't answer when you spoke. No one came to visit him. He never wrote or got letters. He never opened the big box in his room when I was there. ☐

d

After Black Dog's visit, my mother and I went into the captain's room. I found the key to his box. 'Give it to me,' my mother said. She opened the box. We found some clothes, some money from different countries and some books. At the bottom, there were some papers. I looked at them quickly. One of them was a map, a treasure map. ☐

e

'Black Dog is hungry,' the captain said to me. 'Bring him some food.'

I brought something to eat and drink. Black Dog looked up at me. 'Get the money from the captain,' he said. 'Now leave us alone. We want to talk.' I left. For some time I heard nothing. Then the two men started to shout. A minute later, the door opened and Black Dog ran from the hotel with a cut from the captain's knife on his shoulder. ☐

f

When I was a boy many years ago, my father and mother had an old hotel by the sea. One wet day in autumn, an old sea captain came to our door. He was tall and strong with a brown face and long hair. He wore a blue jacket, black gloves and a black hat. He had a big, brown box with him.

'How far is the city from here?' the man asked my father.

'It's a long way,' my father answered.

'Good,' the man said. 'How long does it take to get there?'

'About a day and a half to walk.' 1

g

The captain did not see the other man. 'It's very cold outside today,' he said. 'A drink and some food, Jim.'

The man spoke. 'Bill,' he said. 'Bill, you know me. You know an old friend.'

The captain turned quickly. 'Black Dog!' he said.

'Yes,' Black Dog answered slowly. 'I've come to see my old friend.' ☐

Hi! I'm Ton. I live in Bangkok, in Thailand. Today, Bangkok is a big city on the Chao Phraya River.

Hundreds of years ago, people started to build their homes next to the river. They went fishing on the river and they also used it to travel to other parts of the country by boat. Slowly, a city grew around the river. People then built canals, so they could travel around the city.

Farmers brought food to Bangkok on the river and the canals. They sold the food from their boats, and we still have these 'floating markets'! You can buy all kinds of fruits and vegetables in these markets.

1. Chao Phraya is the name of a river in Bangkok.
2. Many, many years ago, people used the Chao Phraya River for fishing and to go to other places in the _____.
3. The canals in Bangkok helped people to travel around the _____.
4. Farmers used the river and the _____ in Bangkok to bring food to the city.
5. In the _____ markets of Bangkok, farmers sell fruits and vegetables from their boats.

3. Read and circle Yes or No.

CD 2.12 Today, there are lots of roads in Bangkok for cars and buses, but people also like travelling around the city by boat. There are lots of water buses, too. I think water buses are the best way to see the city. The buildings in Bangkok look great from the river.

A city with a river and canals needs lots of bridges, too. One of the most famous bridges in Bangkok is the Bhumibol Bridge. It's 50 metres above the Chao Phraya River. It's quite tall, so ships can easily sail under it! It's 13 kilometres long and it makes it easy for people to travel around the city by road. It's one of the longest bridges in the world, and I think it looks amazing.

1. Today, you can travel only by road in Bangkok. Yes / (No)
2. Ton thinks the best way to see Bangkok is by bus. Yes / No
3. The Bhumibol Bridge is built on the Chao Phraya River. Yes / No

4. Read Sue's diary and draw lines.

Monday, 14th March

Today did not start well! I was 10 minutes late for my first lesson. The lesson was hard because we had an exam. We had to add some large numbers together, like 10,009 + 48,987.

Science was interesting today. Last week, we put some plants in a cupboard without any light, and now they've lost a lot of their green colour.

Something great happened in my favourite lesson this afternoon. My art teacher gave me a prize because I won our school painting competition! I want to study art at university. One day I might be a famous painter!

In my second-favourite lesson, we studied the way people lived in our country 200 years ago. Everything was very different then!

My school day ended with an English lesson. We had to use our dictionaries to find new words. We have to study a lot because our teacher told us we're going to have an English exam next month.

After lessons, I went to the school music club. We learnt some new songs and we had a lot of fun.

5. Read and answer the questions.

The science room is my favourite room at school. There are lots of interesting things in this room. In my science lesson today, we learnt about plants. We looked at leaves with a microscope. A microscope is something that is made of metal and glass, and you use it to see very, very small things. You have to be careful in the science room because there are lots of glass bottles. In some science lessons, we have to wear plastic glasses and gloves. After science lessons, we have to wash our hands.

Another room I like at school is the music room. It's got all kinds of musical instruments in it. Some of the instruments, such as the violins, are made of wood, and some are made of different kinds of metal. Some of the metal ones look like silver and some look like gold – but they're not made of silver and gold, of course! My favourite instruments are the drums. We often sing songs in our music lessons, and I play a large metal drum.

Last week, we made some instruments. One was a plastic comb with some paper around it. You blow through it and it makes a funny noise. Another was a large piece of card. When we moved it, it made a loud noise. It was good, but I like drums better.

1. Which two school rooms does Sam like?

2. What did Sam use in the first room?

_____

3. What is in the second room?

Grammar

A microscope is made of metal and glass.
Some bottles are made of glass.

6. Read again and write one or two words from the text in each gap.

1. Sam likes the ___science___ room best.
2. Sam looked at _____ with a microscope.
3. Sam must sometimes wear glasses and _____ that are made of plastic in the science room.
4. The music room has lots of _____ in it.
5. Some of the _____ look like they are made of silver and gold.
6. Sam used a _____ and some paper to make an instrument.
7. The piece of _____ made a loud noise.

7. Read the texts in exercise 5 again. Complete the sentences.

1. The ___drum___ Sam plays is made of ___metal___.

2. The _____ is made of _____.

3. Sam's glasses are made of _____.

4. Sam's musical instrument in this picture is a _____ comb and a piece of _____.

5. When Sam moves this it makes a loud noise. It is made of _____.

6. The _____ in the science room are made of _____.

Great! Can I help you make it? ☐

What are dinosaurs, Bill? ☐

What did you do at school today, Bill? 1

How are you going to make a dinosaur? ☐

So how did you draw pictures of them? ☐

What did you do in your art lesson? ☐

9. Match Bobby's questions in exercise 8 to Bill's answers.

a. They are animals that lived millions of years ago. ☐

b. No, because it's a competition. I have to do it myself. ☐

c. We had an art lesson, Bobby. It was good. 1

d. We're going to use paper, plastic, wood and anything else we can find. ☐

e. We drew pictures of different sorts of dinosaurs. ☐

f. We looked at pictures in our teacher's books. We're all going to make dinosaurs for homework. ☐

10. Listen again. Check your answers to exercise 9.

12. What is Bill's dinosaur made of? Read the notes and label the dinosaur.

My Dinosaur

1. The body: Make the shape of the dinosaur's body with pieces of metal wire. Cut some paper into small pieces with a pair of scissors. Brush glue on the pieces of paper and stick them all over the wire body. Wait for six hours. The body must be dry.

2. The head and neck: Push some paper into a small plastic bottle. Stick the neck of the plastic bottle to the body to make the head and neck.

3. Tail: Use a piece of card to make the tail. Make one end thinner than the other end. Use scissors to cut it. Stick the tail to the end of the body.

4. Legs: Make the four legs with four plastic cups. Stick the legs to the bottom of the body.

5. The back: Draw large and small triangles on some paper plates. Cut out the triangles and stick them on top of the body.

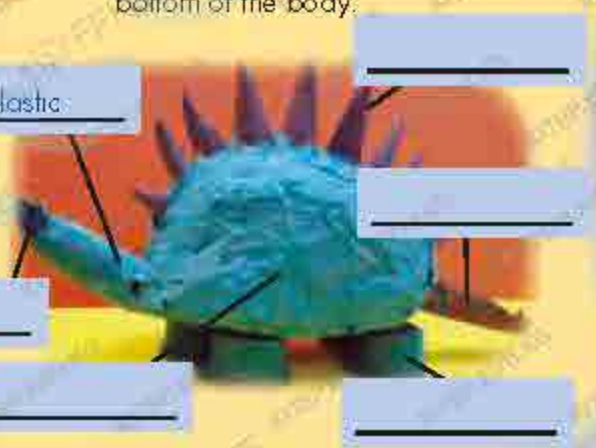

6. Next, stick more small squares of paper on all parts of the dinosaur. When it is dry, paint it.

7. Eyes: Glue two glass balls onto the head to make eyes.

13. In your notebook, draw a dinosaur that you would like to make. Write notes about how to make it. Use Bill's notes to help you.

Grammar

Glue two glass balls onto the head.
Wait for six hours.
Use a piece of card to make the tail.

It's our world!

1. Look at the photos. What can you see?

2. Read and tick (✓) or cross (✗).

10.8 Hello! My name is Rachid and I'm from Alnif, in Morocco. My hobby is collecting fossils. Fossils are parts of animals and plants that lived millions of years ago. The bodies of these animals and plants, or prints of their bodies, are preserved in rocks. For example, fossils can be pieces of trees and plants or shark's teeth. Sometimes people find fossils of dinosaurs!

Alnif is a great place to find fossils. I have got a fossilised shark's tooth. I've also got lots of trilobites and ammonites – two kinds of sea animals that lived millions of years ago, when this part of Morocco was under the sea. One day I want to find a fossil of a dinosaur.

1. There are no plant fossils. We can only find animal fossils. ✗
2. A fossil can be a print of a plant or an animal body. ☐
3. Trilobites were sea animals that lived many, many years ago. ☐
4. Millions of years ago, Alnif was under the sea. ☐
5. Rachid has a fossil of a dinosaur in his collection. ☐

3. Read and circle Yes or No.

10.9

Yesterday, I read in a book about how some fossils are made. Long ago, when animals died, their bodies sometimes fell into mud or sand at the bottom of a river, and they sank into the mud or the sand. The soft parts of their bodies rotted and only their skeleons were left.

With time, the mud or the sand pressed down on their skeletons, and their bones, teeth and shells got harder and harder. Slowly, the sand turned into rock. The parts of the animals stayed in the rock, and today we find their fossils.

Sometimes we find lots of fossils of fish and sea animals deep in the ground. This tells us that the place was under water long ago. So fossils help us to understand our world.

1. When animals died long ago, the hard part of their bodies rotted. Yes / (No)
2. The river pressed down on the skeletons of the animals. Yes / No
3. Fossils form when parts of the animals stay in the rock. Yes / No
4. Fossils tell us things about the past. Yes / No

4. Talk to a friend. Then tell the class.

1. What are your hobbies?
2. Do you collect anything? Did you collect things when you were younger? What are these things?
3. Have you ever seen a fossil? Where?
4. Have you ever found a fossil? Would you like to find one? Why?

Thursday, 18th June

Today we had a ~~music~~ lesson with our new teacher, Mr Baker. During the lesson, we had to put on plastic glasses and we wore hats on our hands. Then we mixed some things in a bowl that was made of wood. Sam washed some glass in the bowl and there was a little fire! Mr Baker was angry. He said burning things in the classroom was very fun because people might get hurt. Sam burnt herself and his face was black! He looked very happy, but he's fine now.
